Those High School Uniforms.

We have the honor of having been awarded the contract for furnishing the uniforms for the High S hool Cadets—the pride of our citizens and a credit to Washington's superior school system. In view of certain insinuations and reflections on the judgment and ability of the school board by a jealous unsuccessful competitor we feel called upon to warn you against placing your order outside of our establishment. They were unsuccessful, but of course their cloth was better! Of course their fit was better! Of course their workmanship was better! Of course their price was lower! Of course the school board didn't know anything about it! We leave the answer to the intelligence of the fathers and mothers, who have sons in the High School and have Suits to buy. We willingly stake our reputation upon the Suits which we are about to furnish, and you have one recourse. Should they not prove satisfactory return them and get your money.

We did not receive this contract because our price was lowest, for it was not! We received it because we furnished a better quality of cloth and a more stylish and more thoroughly made Suit of a blue, which will not rub off over the shoulders, for the intrinsically lowest price-considering the quality!

PROSPECTS OF SUCCESS

certain quarter to take the step in the very near future, probably before the end of the month.

The cricketers, whose object it is to send a team to England, wil make inquiries as to the willingness and ability of the players to go. Having seen their way clear in this direction a meeting will be called and a formal letter sent to C. W. Allcock, secretary of the Surrey Cricket Club, to make matches for the team in Great Britain. This letter will probably be on the water before November 1. About thirteen men would be in the touring party, and the trip cculd be made at the expense of about $600 per man, or a little less than $8,000.

The question of expense will never enter into the question, not that extravagance will be advocated, but there are too many ardent cricketers in Philadelphia to permit such a project falling through for lack of funds. The Gentlemen of Philadelphia played abroad in 1884 and in 1889, and they can do it again in 1896. On those trips they defrayed all their expenses, the money taken in at the gate being donated to the cricketers' fund, a sum for the support of old and decrepit players.

On both the former trips the Gentlemen of Philadelphia di-l not play the full strength of the counties, as they barred the professionals. This time, however, our men will not insist on this and meet the best teams of the counties in which they play.

A member of the Gentlemen of Philadelphia elever that played against the Cambridge-Oxford team, in speaking of the proposed trip yesterday afternoon, said: "We will be gone about eight weeks and play three matches every two weeks, or about a dozen in all. The teams Mr. Allcock will be instructed to schedule us with are the Gentlemen of Ireland, Oxford University, Cambridge University, Middlesex, Gloucestershire (the great Grace's county), Sussex, Leicestershire, Kent, Somerset, Darbyshire and the like. It is very improbable we will nlay Yorkshire Suray and Lan. Gloucestershire (the great Grace's county), Sussex, Lelcestershire, Kent, Somerset, Darbyshire and the like. It is very improbable we will play Yorkshire, Surey and Lancashire, as they are the three strongest counties in England now and would be a little too much for us."

"How do the Gentlemen of Philadelphia rank with the English county teams?" was asked.

"We will probably loss more constitutions."

"Our men will bat better on the English wickets than on our own, and I think our bowlers will do equally as well abroad as

HARRY WRIGHT'S CAREER.

The Most Widely Known Man in Base Ball Circles.

Harry Wright, chief of umpires of the National League of Base Ball Clubs and ex-manager of the Philadelphia National League club, whose death was announced in yesterday's Star, was sixty years of age. He was taken ill in Philadelphia ten days ago, and thought a trip to the seashore would be beneficial. He grew worse. He had catarrhal pneumonia.

Harry Wright was the most widely known and perhaps the best posted base ball man of the times. Honest in his dealings with managers and players, he established an enviable reputation. He was born in England in 1835, but came to this country with his parents a year later. His a athletic career began as a cricketer. He played with the St. George Cricket Club of New York when but fifteen years of age. He commenced to play base ball in 1857, when he was center fielder for the famous Knickerbockers of New York.

In 1866 he went to Cincinnati and helped to organize the famous Cincinnati Red of the times. Honest in his dealings with Stockings. During the season of 1869 the Red Stockings traveled all over the United States without losing a game. It was while a member of this club that Harry Wright, in a game at Newport, Ky., June 22, 1867, made seven home runs, the record to this day.

made seven home runs, the record to this day.

In 1871 he was engaged to play center field and captain the Boston club. After the National League was organized Harry's Boston team won the championship of that organization in the seasons of 1877 and 1878. He remained with the Boston club until the end of the season of 1881.

He was engaged in 1882 to manage the Providence club, and it finished second in the championship race that season and third in 1883. Harry Wright in 1884 was engaged to manage the Philadelphia club, with which he remained until the close of the season of 1893, when he was made chief of the league staff of umpires, a position which was created for him, and which he held at the time of his death.

A strong undercurrent of influence was brought to bear on those officials, and the several fights which have been held at Colma would not justify the amount of pressure which was put in motion to get the franchise.

It is openly stated that the prize-fighting permit at Colma was obtained with a view of getting some big fight, the Corbett-Pitz-simmons physical contest preferred.

Dan Stuart, the manager of the fight, said yesterday that he had three places in view, two of which he named as Mexico and the Indian territory. The third place he omitted to mention. It is believed that he had California in mind.

Charles B. McDonald of Chicago won the match yesterday at Newport in the finals in the national golf tournament, with Charles E. On the whole, the westerner's task was a On the whole, the westerner's task was a light one. Sands utterly failed to push him to any great extent, and the match amounted to a practice game for McDonald. But he reeled off holes at a rapid rate in the afternoon's play, giving the spectators an idea of how he might play. Sands, however, gives great promise, and, were he to stick to golf, would make a strong hid for higher honors next year. He clearly lacked form, wherein McDonald is very strong. Summary:

Finals—Charles B. McDonald, Chicago, beat Charles E. Sands, St. Andrew, 12 up and 11 to play, 18 holes, by strokes for 3 rounds. McDonald, 44, 44, 44–132. Sands, 54, 47, 60–161.

American Cricketers Going to England Next Year.

WILL MEET THE PROFESSIONAL TEAMS

Following right on the heels of the three international cricket matches in this town, news that the Gentlemen of Philadelphia eleven will take a trip to England next year and play some of the crack elevens on the other side. This, of course, will in no way interfere with the international matches with English elevens in Philadelphia next fall, for the Americans would be abroad during the two latter weeks of May, the month of June and the first fortnight

"We will probably lose more games than we win; about seven out of twelve, say." "How will our players show up on the other side?"

From the Baltimoreans. Cuppy won yesterday's game for the lands. The Baltimores could not touch him. He pitched the game with the thumb pened in the second inning. Carey batted a stinging grounder toward center field, and Cuppy threw out his hand and tried to stop the ball. By that operation he nearly saved it for his team. Cleveland hit Hoffer hard.

In the first inning Burkett begin with a single to right field. A wild pitch put him on second, and he scored on McKean's line hit to right. Childs bunted, and McKean went to third McAleer was hit by a pitched ball. Tebeau flied to Keeler and McKean stole home after the put-out, while McAleer went to second. It was an easy task for the latter to score when Zimmer rapped a long two-bagger to left field.

fight will rival even that of Governor Cul-berson. The statutes of Arkansas of 1884 are in force in this country, and they are silent so far as they pertain to prize fight-ing, and there is nothing in the federal statute books which would warrant the marshal to take a hand to prevent the fight coming off. The Attorney General has sig-nified his willingness to call out the milita to the assistance of the Choctaw tribe, if requested to do 50.
